Mission President Message

Dear Fellow Missionary:

In 2007 the Book of Mormon, Doctrine and Covenants and Pearl of Great Price were completely retranslated for the first time in over 40 years. The improved translations provide new clarity, greater simplicity and closer adherence to the original English text. Members report the new translation is more in tune with the Chinese culture and allows them to focus on the language of the spirit. The new Chinese edition of the Triple Combination also includes a topical guide and Bible dictionary, footnotes, pictures and maps. Not only does the new translation make it easier for Chinese members to study the scriptures, but also opens the way for missionaries to more easily read the scriptures in their mission language. By learning 2,530 Chinese characters, a missionary can read all three of these standard works.

Sister Julie B. Beck encouraged, "Many of you study foreign languages. You might like to start reading the Book of Mormon in another language. When you read the scriptures in another language, you learn what the words mean in a new way." (Ensign Conference Report, May 2004, p.107).

We are taught to continually improve our language every day of our mission. One of the suggested methods listed in chapter 7 of "Preach My Gospel" to improve your language ability is to read the Book of Mormon in your mission language. Specifically, "Learn to read and write the … characters of your language… focus on reading skills, such as scripture reading, that will help you when you teach." ("Preach My Gospel", p. 130).

You will bless the lives of the members and your investigators as you are able to teach from the scriptures. As you do all you can to learn the language, the Lord will bless you with ability beyond your normal means. "Seek the gifts of the Spirit, including the gift of tongues and the interpretation of tongues. More than anything else, this will help you speak and understand the language of the people in your mission. You will not obtain this gift without effort on your part; you need to actively seek it. Part of seeking the gift of tongues is to labor and struggle and to do all you can to learn the language." ("Preach My Gospel", p. 133).

Finally, remember that true conversion comes from the language of the Spirit. President Monson taught, "There is one language… that is common to each missionary – the language of the Spirit... Proficiency in this language permits one to breach barriers, overcome obstacles, and touch the human heart." ("Preach My Gospel", p. 133)

May the Lord bless you as you strive to become a master teacher in the Chinese language.

Your Mission President

傳道部會長信息

親愛的傳教士同工們:

二００七年，摩爾門經、教義和聖約和無價珍珠四十年來的第一次重新翻譯已完成。經核准的翻譯簡易明瞭並更近似於原文英文版。教友們反應新的翻譯比較與中華文化合協一致，讓他們更能專注在屬靈的語言。新的中文三合一版本包含大綱、經文指南、註解、圖片和地圖。新的翻譯不僅使教友能更容易研讀經文，也為傳教士開啟另一扇門來更容易學習傳道地區語言的經文，藉著學習 2530 個中文字，每位傳教士可以看得懂全部三部經文。

貝克．茉莉姐妹鼓勵:「很多學習國外語言的你們，你們應該開始研讀另一種語言的摩爾門經，當你研讀另一種語言的經文，你將會學習到經文另一種新的意思。」(2005 年 5 月利阿賀拿教友大會演講稿第 107 頁)

在台灣台中傳道部，我們被教導要每天不斷改進我們的語言。其中一項建議方法列在宣講我的福音第七章，改善讀寫能力是去研讀以傳道地區語言寫成的摩爾門經，特別的是，學習讀、寫該語言的字體、專注在閱讀技巧，如:經文的閱讀…等，這麼做會對你的教育有所助益(宣講我的福音第 130 頁)

當你能夠從經文中教導，你會祝福教友的生活和你的慕道友，當你盡一切所能來學習語言，主將賜與你的能力遠超過你所預期的，「尋求屬靈的恩賜，包括說方言的恩賜和譯方言的恩賜。與其他事物比較起來，這樣恩賜更能幫助你說出和了解傳道地區裡人們所用的語言。然而若缺少本身的努力，是無法獲得這樣恩賜的；因此你需要積極地努力尋求。」(宣講我的福音第 133 頁)

最後，記住那真正的歸信來自於靈的話語，多馬．孟蓀會長曾教導「有一種語言，是每位傳教士都懂的－即靈的話語。熟悉靈的話語能祛除障礙、克服困難並感動人心。」(宣講我的福音第 133 頁)

在努力成為一位華語的偉大教導教師時，願主祝福你。

Introduction: How Can I Best Use The Language Study Plan, Phase 3?

Your primary goal is to become a master teacher. "Missionaries learning a second language should focus their language study on preparing to teach the missionary lessons." ("Preach My Gospel", p. 30). Being able to read the Book of Mormon in Chinese will aid you in this goal, but is not a substitute for fluently speaking and understanding what is being said to you. You should be able to effectively teach the lessons contained in Chapter 3 of "Preach My Gospel" -- and be confident in your speaking and comprehension abilities -- before you progress to reading and writing in your mission language. Even as you learn to read the Book of Mormon in Chinese characters, continually review Chapter 3 of "Preach My Gospel" and frequently practice teaching these lessons.

Once you have completed Phase 1 and Phase 2, you are prepared to progress to Phase 3. The Language Study Plan Phase 3 contains the following materials.

Tools provided in Phase 3:

1. Study Workbook. The Study Workbook contains:
   - Characters: All 2,530 characters used in the Chinese edition of the Triple Combination are presented in the character section of this book. The stroke order of each character is clearly marked to enable you to write the character correctly. The characters are presented in order of frequency of appearance in the Book of Mormon. You will note that hundreds of characters are used only a few times in the Book of Mormon; therefore, by learning the characters in order of most-frequently used, you will discover that you can soon read large sections of the Book of Mormon.
   - Pinyin Index: If you know how to pronounce a character, you can look it up in this dictionary by simply searching for the character's pinyin.
   - Radical Index: If you do not know how to pronounce a character, you can look it up using this dictionary. The Chinese written language contains 214 radicals, or components, which comprise each character. (See additional information on radicals in your Phase 2 Study Workbook.) By identifying the radical and number of strokes, you can quickly look up any character.

2. Character Cards.

Each character card contains the following information. The front of each card presents the character in "正楷" (zhèngkǎi) form, and clockwise from the upper left, the sequence number, the simplified or alternative character form (if any), the number of times the character appears in the Book of Mormon, and the radical + number of strokes to write the character. The reverse side of each card contains the pronunciation in pinyin and "zhuyinfuhao" (BoPoMoFo), the definition of the character, several usage examples and a reference in the Book of Mormon (including scripture reference and the actual scripture phrase in Chinese, pinyin and English). The sequence number of each character is based on the order of most frequent use in the Book of Mormon, with character number 1 appearing the most times, and higher-sequence numbered characters appearing less frequently.

3. The Book of Mormon Missionary Language Study Edition in Chinese.

This study volume, formerly printed by missions in Taiwan, is now available as an official text from the Church. The Book of Mormon is presented in three columns – Chinese characters, pinyin and English. Missionaries can easily convert text from English to Chinese and vice versa. A missionary can use this volume for teaching and giving talks, as well as personal and companion study.

你的主要目標是要成為一位偉大的教導教師，「學習第二語言的傳教士應該將語文的學習專注在準備教導傳教士課程。」(宣講我的福音第 30 頁)能夠閱讀中文的摩爾門經將有助於在這個目標上，但不是取代經常的交談和了解所說的話。你必須能夠有效地教導「宣講我的福音」中第三章包含的所有課程。你要對你的理解能力和所說的話有信心，即使你在學習看得懂中文摩爾門經的字時，也要繼續複習「宣講我的福音」第三章和經常練習教導這些課程。

一旦已完成 語言學習 1 和語言學習 2，你已準備好進入到語言學習 3，語言學習 3 計畫本包括以下的部份:

語言計畫 3 的工具:

1.學習練習冊　包含:

· 字體:共 2350 筆單字，中文摩爾門經三合一版中所使用的字，都出現在這本書中的字體單元。每個字體的筆劃順序都很清楚的標識，使你能正確的書寫字體。單字是按照在摩爾門經中出現次數多寡所排列出來。你會發覺到數百個單字只出現在摩爾門經裡面幾次，因此，學習最常使用到的單字，會發現不久後可以看得懂大部分的摩爾門經。

· 拼音字母:假如你要唸出一個字，可以用簡單的拼音搜尋，在字典上查詢這個字。

· 部首字典:假如不知道該怎麼唸出一個字，可以在字典上查閱這個字。中文的文字是由 214 個字首或字根所組成一個文字。(請參閱語文學習 2 的部首補充說明。) 只要你能分別出部首和筆劃順序，你就能很快查閱任何的單字。

2.單字卡:

每張單字卡包含以下的內容，單字卡正面的字體是以正楷的形式呈現，順時針方向從左上角開始依序是，排序號碼、簡體字(如果有)、單字出現在摩爾門經的次數、部首和書寫字體的筆畫。單字卡背面內容是注音符號發音(ㄅㄆㄇㄈ…)和漢語拼音發音，單字的定義、常用的片語和摩爾門經的用詞(包括經文的用詞和中文、拼音、英文的經文實際例句)，每個單字的排列號碼是根據在摩爾門經中，出現次數多寡而排列，數字越小出現次數越多，數字越大出現次數越少。

3.中文摩爾門經傳教士語言學習版:

這套學習書最早由台灣台中傳道部印製，現在則是教會正式發行的書籍。摩爾門經是以三種不同的文字-中文字、拼音、英文來印製，每位傳教士可輕易的將英文字轉到中文字或由中文字轉成英文字。每位傳教士可在教導、演講、個人和同伴團的學習使用這本書。

Introduction: How Can I Best Use The Character Cards and Study Workbook?

Character Cards

The main purpose of the character cards is to assist you in memorizing the characters and their meanings. You will also be able to learn several common usages of the character and read examples from the Book of Mormon (or Triple Combination).

The character cards are organized by sequence number, starting with "的" (de), character card number 1, the most commonly used character in the Book of Mormon and ending with the 333 characters which are used only once in the Book of Mormon, character card numbers 2198 to 2530. You should begin by memorizing the most commonly used characters first. Employing this approach will enable you to read more of the Book of Mormon in a shorter period of time.

An effective method of learning characters is to take a group of 10 or more cards and memorize each character and some or all of its common uses in the scriptures and in everyday language. Test yourself by looking at the front of the card, saying the character out loud and then turning the card over to see if you are correct. Mix the cards and test yourself again. Once you have completed a set of cards, take the next 10 cards in sequence and begin again with a new set. You may wish to retain difficult characters, or characters which you did not say properly, in the next set and test yourself again on these cards.

Study Workbook

The purpose of the Study Workbook is to teach you how to write the characters used in the Book of Mormon (and Triple Combination). The Study Workbook contains the stroke order of each character, plus selected basic information from the character cards.

To learn how to write the characters, you should purchase character writing practice pads. (Character practice books, used by all elementary school children to practice writing characters, are readily available in various formats at any book store.) Start by writing the characters in large boxes; as you become more comfortable writing characters, you can purchase practice pads with smaller sized boxes. The character boxes will help you write each character the same size and write in a square format.

Before you begin writing characters, you should be able to correctly write all 214 radicals. These radicals are the building blocks of all characters. A complete table of the Chinese Radicals, with the stroke order and direction of each stroke, is contained in this Study Workbook Introduction. Please note that direction of stroke and stroke order are very important! If you do not write the stroke in the correct direction and/or use an incorrect stroke order, your written characters will look abnormal.

The Study Workbook is formatted to allow you to study using two methods. The first method is to cover the character definitions (use your Phase 1 Bookmark or any sheet of paper) and then test yourself on the pronunciation and definition. This study method is similar to using the character cards, but allows you to review large quantities of characters more quickly.

The second method of study will enable you to learn how to write the characters. Cover the column of characters and read the pronunciation and definition of each character. (Avoid looking at, or cover with another sheet of paper, the scripture excerpt which shows the character.) After you have quickly glanced at the pronunciation and definition, write the character in your character practice book – then uncover the character to determine if you wrote the character correctly and in the correct stroke order.

單字卡

單字卡最主要的目的是協助你記下中文字和其意義，而且將能夠學到數個常用的慣用語和從摩爾門經(三合一)中的例句。

單字卡是依順序號碼而排列，數字 1 開始的字是「的」，是在摩爾門經中最普遍使用的單字，最後面的 333 個單字只出現在摩爾門經中一次，數字號碼從 2198 到 2530，你應該先開始記下最普遍使用的單字，套用這方法能使你在短時間內可以看得懂摩爾門經。

最有效學習中文字的方法是一次取十張或更多的卡片為一組，記下每個中文字和部份或全部經文中的用法和每個字的慣用語，接著看著單字卡的正面，測試你自己，大聲的唸出單字，然後翻到背面看看是否正確。並且再次弄亂單字卡並且測試自己，一但學習完這組單字卡，取出下一組十張連續號碼的單字卡，並從新學習，你也可以留下較複雜的單字或還不能正確唸出其單字的音的單字卡在下一組單字卡中再次學習和測驗這些單字。

學習練習簿

學習練習簿最主要的目的是協助你寫出摩爾門經(三合一)所使用的中文字，本書其中包含單字的筆劃順序，及單字的基本解釋。

為了學習如何寫出中文字，你應該購買練習簿(在任何書局都可以買到，是小學生練習中文的簿子)。一開始在大格子裡寫下中文字；一但能很順暢的寫出中文字，你可以購買較小格子的練習簿，這些格子可以幫助你寫出均衡大小且方正的中文字。

在開始寫中文字之前，你應該需要學會可以寫出全部 214 個部首，所有的文字都是由部首組成，在這本學習練習簿中包括完整的中文部首目錄和每個筆畫的標識和順序，請特別注意筆畫的標識和順序是非常重要的，若是沒有照正確筆劃標示或沒有照筆劃順序寫字，寫出來的字將會很怪異。

語言練習簿協助你運用兩種方法來學習，第一種是蓋住單字的意義(使用語言學習 1 的書籤或任何的紙)之後測驗自己在單字的發音和意義，這種的學習方法和學習單字的方法一樣，但要使自己已較快的速度來複習大量的單字卡。

第二種方法將使你學習如何寫中文字，遮蓋住中文字那欄，唸出每個中文字的音和意義，避免看到或者用另一張紙遮蓋著經文例句所顯示的文字，快速看過發音和意義後，在練習簿上寫下該文字，然後看字體是否有正確的寫出或筆劃順序是否有顛倒。

Introduction: How Can I Best Understand Character Meanings?

Usually the definition of the single character on a character card is similar to the two character (or more) compound term used in the scripture example; in these instances you may feel the definition of the compound is redundant. However, in many cases, you will appreciate the definitions of the compound characters because the single character and the character compound will be vastly different. Perhaps the best example of this phenomenon is the single character 2350 "貓" (māo), which means "cat", but the compound used in the scriptures is "貓頭鷹" (māotóuyīng), which means "owl".

As you read the Book of Mormon in Chinese and you study the meanings of each character used to convey the original English meaning of the text, you will gain new insight and inspiration into the Book of Mormon. Often, by noticing and pondering the deeper meanings of the Chinese, you will come to better understand the English. Also, you know that English cannot be translated directly into Chinese; therefore, you should not expect an exact correlation of words and terms. Some examples are listed below:

1. In some text, the English word in the Book of Mormon can have different meanings, but the Chinese translation of the word makes the meaning exactly clear.
   - Character 622; the English reads, "did beat them". "Beat" could mean literally "to hit", but the Chinese translation leaves no question that "beat" in this case means "擊敗" (jībài) "defeat" them.
   - Character 1901; the English reads, "he is mad", which could have more than one meaning, but the Chinese translation for "mad" "瘋子" (fēngzi) makes it clear that "mad" means "insane".
   - Character 1922; the English reads, "they did try", which is a rather vague term, but the Chinese translation is very concise. The word for "try" is "檢驗" (jiǎnyàn) which means "to inspect or examine".
   - Character 2262; the English reads, "I desire the room". Although the English is quite clear, the Chinese "篇幅" (piānfú) means "space on a page" which leaves no doubt as to the meaning of "room".
   - Character 2498; the English reads "his own house" which seems very clear; however, the Chinese translation of "house" in this case is "陰宅" (yīnzhái) "tomb or grave". In fact, by carefully reading the English text, one can determine in this sentence, "house" does mean "tomb or grave".

2. Sometimes, the best option for the Chinese translation is to use a negative particle, in which case the character you are learning will not translate directly into the English scripture text.
   - Character 2006; the English reads, "neither should they be dimmed"; the Chinese translates "dimmed" as "失去任何光澤" (shīqù rènhé guāngzé) or "not… lose any luster".
   - Character 2169; the English reads, "being ashamed"; the Chinese translation is "無顏" (wú yán) or "no face".

3. In some cases, the Chinese character is simply not contained in the English text. Often, in these cases, the Chinese character(s) serves to ensure the Chinese text flows in a natural way or clarifies something in the English text that is already understood or implied.
   - Character 1964; the English reads, "the said Smith has got the plates". The Chinese translation adds the character "氏" (shì) which means the "Smith clan" or "Smith family".
   - Character 2010; the English reads, "New York", but the Chinese reads "紐約州" (niǔyuē zhōu) or "New York State" to ensure the reader knows "New York" refers to the state and not the city.

- Character 2270; the English reads, “to rob and plunder”, but the Chinese translation adds the words “的勾當” (de gōu dàng) at the end of the phrase, which means “the business of” robbing and plundering, which helps the sentence to read more smoothly and improves the reader’s understanding.
- Character 2455; the English reads, “with twain he did fly”; the Chinese adds the word “翅膀” (chìbǎng) which means “wings”, in other words, “with two wings he did fly”.

4. Notice how some character selections add new or additional meaning to the English text.
- Character 1435; the English reads “been consecrated” which is rather unclear, but the Chinese translation “授予聖職” (shòuyǔ shèngzhí), which means “confer the priesthood”, is very clear.
- Character 2275; Notice the imagery that is created with the Chinese word “龜裂” (guīliè) , which is the translation for “broken up” – in other words, something that appears like the crack patterns on the back of a tortoise shell.
- Characters 2530 and 1989; Abinadi says, “ye have studied and taught iniquity the most part of your lives” The Chinese word for “studied” is “鑽研” (zuānyán) comprised of “鑽” (zuān), which means “to drill, bore or pierce” and “研” (yán), which means “grind or rub”. Combined, “鑽研” (zuānyán) means “dig into” or by extension “to study intensively” which provides additional insight and meaning into how the evil priests “studied”.

5. In some cases, a four-character Chinese saying is used to translate the English meaning, adding a high degree of literary flavor to the scriptural text.
- Character 1639; the English for “with fear” is translated as “戰戰兢兢” (zhànzhànjīngjīng) a Chinese saying meaning “to tremble with fear”.
- Character 1821; the English for “peep and mutter” is translated as “唸唸有詞，言語微細的” (niànniànyǒucí, yányǔ wéixì). The Chinese saying “唸唸有詞” (niànniànyǒucí) means “to mumble or mutter” and “言語微細的” (yányǔ wéixì) means “tiny words” or “peeps”.
- Character 2393; the English text is very descriptive, “walking and mincing as they go”, but the Chinese saying employed, “俏步徐行” (qiàobù xúxíng) is equally colorful, meaning literally “pretty steps and flirtatious movement”.

6. Notice that usually the alternate form listed in the upper right hand corner of each character card and Study Workbook entry is a simplified version, but in some cases, the alternate form is a complicated version.
- Character 2044; the rarely-used complicated form of “呆” (dāi) is written in the upper right hand corner as “獃” (dāi).

7. Many characters you will study in the Book of Mormon are only used for transliteration. Transliteration means to change the letters or words of one language (English) directly into the characters of another language (Chinese). Most Chinese characters used for transliteration do have meaning and can be used on their own; however, when used for the purpose of transliteration, the characters do not have any meaning other than to provide the desired sound or pronunciation. In the Book of Mormon, characters used for transliteration (names and places) are easily identified by a line on the left side of all characters used in the transliteration.
- Characters 251 and 86; the transliteration for Satan is “撒但” (sādàn), which is the best sound in Chinese for Satan. Note that “撒” (sā) and “但” (dàn) are used in this case only to provide the desired sound, but in other situations, “撒” (sā) means “to disperse” and “但” (dàn) means “but or however”.

- Characters 1086, 1151 and 1087; the transliteration for Omer is "俄梅珥" (éméiěr). Again, in this example, the three characters have no meaning except to provide the necessary sounds. Many characters used in the Book of Mormon for transliterations are also used for other more common transliterations outside the Book of Mormon, for example, "俄" (é) is used for "Russia" "俄羅斯" (éluósī).
- Characters 121 and 1023; the transliteration for Adam "亞當" (yǎdāng) is in common use outside of the Book of Mormon, but other names; for example, the transliteration for Syria, "亞蘭" (yǎlán) in the Book of Mormon, is different from the transliteration "敘利亞" (xùlìyà) now in common use for Syria.
- Character 1036; transliterations can sometimes be quite lengthy, for example "拉康以阿斯" (lākāngyǐāsī) is a five-character transliteration for Lachoneus.

8. Many characters used in scripture are used in special combinations not normally employed in everyday conversation. You should be aware that many of these terms will not be understood outside of a religious discussion. The character compound definition listed first on each character card is a typical example of usage employed in scripture (and may not be a common term); however, you will find other more typical uses of the character listed in the second through fourth examples on the reverse sides of the character cards.

- Character 227; the character "應" (yìng) is most commonly used to mean "should or ought to", but the definition listed first on the character card and often used in the Book of Mormon is "應許地" (yìngxǔdì) "land of promise" or "promised land".
- Character 954; these characters "祭司權術" (jìsīquánshù) are fairly common, "祭司" (jìsī) meaning "priest" and "權術" (quánshù) meaning "political trickery" but are combined for the strictly religious term, "priestcraft". Outside the Church, very few people would understand this word. More common uses of these characters are given on the character cards.
- Character 1614; the first definition for the character "餐" (cān) is "聖餐" (shèngcān) or "sacrament", which is clearly a religious term and not normally used in everyday conversation. Other definitions, including "餐廳" (cāntīng) "restaurant", "餐具" (cān jù) "tableware", and "餐巾" (cānjīn) "napkin" printed on the character card, are examples of common usage.
